Green Innovative Users' Guide - Our Common Natural Values

Newsletter

At the end of October 2020, the first joint Interreg project of the Municipality of Palást and Mary's Route Public Benefit Association was completed. However, the work continues.

The cooperation between the Municipality of Palást and Mary's Route Public Benefit Association extends to a new area in the framework of the Interreg V-A Slovakia-Hungary Cooperation Program project SKHU / WETA / 1901 / 4.1 / 229, Green Innovative Users' Guide - Our Common Natural Values, the purpose of which is to further strengthen cooperation between the two partner countries through joint development with the involvement of new partners.

The development to be implemented will create a web and mobile application (IOS) user interface / application based on the 'Brainbox' game principle, in relation to the natural values of a given area. Primarily, we want to implement the possibility of learning by playing with development aimed at young people, but representatives of the older age group, as well as those who want to go hiking and excursions, will also find interesting and useful information.

With the development of the application, many additional results are expected, as the values along the route will be surveyed and recorded, and as a result of serious IT development, events and workshops will be organized during the extensive presentation of the new mobile game. Through the development to be implemented, new international relations and co-operations will be established, which may expand and develop in the future.

We will provide information on the joint work and the progress of the work already started in our next newsletter.
